DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 5 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate of claim 4. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 4-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mitsui et al. (US 6,430,033).

Regarding claim 4, Mitsui et al. disclose a solid electrolytic capacitor (figures 1-6) comprising:

- a capacitor element (2) comprises a porous anode chip body (4) obtained by solidly molding a powder of a valve-acting metal and then sintering the same, a dielectric film (5) formed on the surface of the anode chip body other than the one end surface thereof, a solid electrolyte layer (6) formed on top of the dielectric film other than the one end surface, and a cathode-side electrode film (7 & 8) formed on top of the solid electrolyte layer other than the one end surface;

- an anode-side terminal (11) is provided on the metal powder exposed on the one end surface of the anode chip body in the capacitor element; and
- a cathode-side terminal (10) is provided on the cathode side electrode film in the capacitor element.

Regarding claim 5, Mitsui et al. disclose a solid electrolytic capacitor (figures 1-6) comprising:

- a capacitor element (2) comprises a porous anode chip body (4) obtained by solidly molding a powder of a valve acting metal and then sintering the same, a dielectric film (5) formed on the surface of the anode chip body other than the one end surface thereof, a solid electrolyte layer (6) formed on top of the dielectric film other than the one end surface, and a cathode-side electrode film (7 & 8) formed on top of the solid electrolyte layer other than the one end surface;
- an anode-side metal film is provided on the metal powder exposed on the one end surface of the anode chip body in the capacitor element; and
- a cathode-side metal film is provided on the cathode side electrode film in the capacitor element.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-3 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

With respect to claims 1-3, the prior art alone or in combination does not teach the limitation of a method for manufacturing a capacitor element for a solid electrolytic capacitor comprising the steps of: adhesively attaching one end surface of the anode chip body to the surface of a metal plate with an electrically conductive adhesive, so that the anode chip body can be peeled off from the metal plate.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Citation Relevant of Prior Art

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

- a. Fife et al. (US 6,674,635) disclose protective coating for electrolytic capacitor.
- b. Kudoh et al. (US 6,206,937) disclose solid electrolytic capacitors comprising a conductive layer made of a polymer of pyrrole.
- c. Fukaumi et al. (US 6,154,358) disclose solid electrolytic capacitor using a conducting polymer.
- d. Kobayashi et al. (US 6,151,205) disclose solid electrolytic capacitor and method for making the same.
